Risk and Reward Profile

The risk indicator above is based on historical data and may not be a reliable indication of the future risk profile of the Share Class. The risk category shown is not guaranteed and may change over time. The risk indicator is a measure of the Share Class' price movement (volatility) over time, and shall help investors understand the possibilities for losses or for gains that may affect their investment. A Share Class with the lowest risk rating does not mean a 'risk-free' investment.

This Share Class is in category 4 as it mainly invests in Asian bonds and other fixed-income securities; these investments have shown price fluctuations historically. The value of the Share Class may rise and fall accordingly.

In addition to the risk indicator, the Sub-Fund may also be subject to the following specific risks:

Investment Risk: The Sub-Fund's investment portfolio may fall in value due to any of the key risk factors below and therefore your investment in the Sub-Fund may suffer losses.

Liquidity Risk: This Sub-Fund will invest a portion of its assets in comparatively less liquid assets/securities, therefore, the Sub-Fund's investments may become difficult to sell for full value or at all, which could affect performance and could result in delays when you sell your shares.

Sovereign Debt Risk: The Sub-Fund's investment in securities issued or guaranteed by governments may be exposed to political, social and economic risks. In adverse situations, the sovereign issuers may not be able or willing to repay the principal and/or interest when due or may request the Sub-Fund to participate in restructuring such debts. The Sub-Fund may suffer significant losses when there is a default of sovereign debt issuers.

Credit Rating and Downgrading Risk: Credit ratings assigned by rating agencies are subject to limitations and do not guarantee the creditworthiness of the security and/or issuer at all times. In any event, the credit rating of a debt security or its issuer may subsequently be downgraded. In the event of such downgrading, the value of the Sub-Fund may be adversely affected. The Co-Investment Managers may or may not be able to dispose of the debt securities that are being downgraded.

Risks associated with investments in debt instruments with loss-absorption features (including Contingent Convertible Debt Securities): Debt instruments with loss-absorption features present more significant risks relative to traditional debt securities particularly given that instruments of this type can be written down or converted to equity as the result of the triggering of predetermined criteria relating to solvency and/or regulatory required capital levels, that may be beyond the control of the issuer. Such trigger events are complex and difficult to predict, and can result in a partial or total reduction in the value of the associated securities.

Collateralised / Securitised Products Risk: The Sub-Fund may invest in collateralised and/or securitised products, including asset-backed securities and mortgage-backed securities. These securities provide exposure to underlying assets and the risk/return profile is determined by the cash flows derived from such assets. In a volatile market, these securities may display heightened price sensitivity to market fluctuations and have higher liquidity and credit downgrading risks.

Credit Risk: This refers to the risk that a corporate bond issuer will default, by failing to repay principal and interest in a timely manner, or that negative perceptions of the issuer's ability to make such payments will cause the price of that bond to decline.

High-Yield Bonds Risk: The Sub-Fund may invest in higher-yielding debt securities rated lower than investment grade, or if unrated, their equivalent. As such, an investment in the Sub-Fund is accompanied by a higher degree of credit risk, volatility and liquidity risks than high-rated debt securities.

Interest Rate Risk: When interest rates rise on certain currencies that the bonds are denominated in, the value of the bonds may reduce, resulting in a lower value for the relevant portfolio.

Counterparty Risk: This refers to the risk of loss in connection with the insolvency of an issuer or a counterparty and/or its failure to perform under its contractual obligations.

Emerging Markets Risk: The investment of the Sub-Fund may be exposed to higher risks than in developed economies or markets. The value of the Sub-Fund's assets may also be affected by differences or changes in government policies, taxation, accounting, legal or currency restrictions. Certain emerging economies are exposed to the risks of higher inflation, interest rates, external debt.

Mainland China Investment Risk: Investing in the securities markets in Mainland China is subject to the risks of investing in emerging markets generally as well as to specific risks relating to the Mainland China market. Investing in Mainland China-related companies involves certain risks and special considerations not typically associated with investment in more developed economies or markets, such as greater political, tax, foreign exchange, liquidity and regulatory risk.

Risks Associated with Investments via the Bond Connect: The Sub-Fund's investments in bonds through the Bond Connect will be subject to a number of additional risks and restrictions that may affect the Sub-Fund's investments and returns.

Currency Risk: The Sub-Fund's assets may be invested primarily in securities denominated in currencies other than U.S. Dollars and the Sub-Fund may receive income or realization proceeds from these investments in those currencies, some of which may fall in value against U.S. Dollars.

Use of Financial Derivative Instruments (FDIs): The Sub-Fund may use FDIs for investment purposes as well as to manage risk and manage the Sub-Fund more effectively. The use of derivatives exposes the Sub-Fund to additional risks, including: volatility risk, management risk, market risk, credit risk and liquidity risk.
